The Alameda County Arts Commission is pleased to share this newsletter with information about the annual Art is Education Month of March, Arts Leadership Award Program, Dublin Public Art Project, Arts, Culture & Creativity Month of April, and the East Bay EDA Innovation Awards.

All of the programs and services of the Arts Commission are based on the belief that arts and creativity are an essential part of every successful and thriving community. Thank you for your support of the arts in Alameda County!

Arts Advocacy in Action

On March 1, 2022, President of the Board Keith Carson and the Alameda County Board of Supervisors proclaimed March as “Art is Education Month” and April as “Arts, Culture and Creativity Month.”

Creativity is essential, and art is healing. We use creativity every day to create solutions for the world we share. Get involved now and throughout the year with these arts advocacy resources and activities:

- Connect your arts education events by using the Art is Education logo in March and the Arts, Culture & Creativity month logo and hashtags #ArtisEducation #CreateAlamedaCounty #ACCM22

- Share the value of the arts with your network. Post social media images from the toolkits presented by CREATE CA and Californians for the Arts.

- Learn about arts advocacy by watching a short interview with Julie Baker, Director of Californians for the Arts and Joaquin Newman, Manager of the Arts and Creativity Program at REACH Ashland Youth Center.

During Art is Education Month, the Arts Commission is distributing 20,000 arts education advocacy activity sheets and brushes with the help of partners across the County. The sheets have watercolor paint embedded in the paper, so all that is needed is a little water. Partners include Alameda County Library, Alameda County Community Food Bank, Oakland Vet Center, CREATE CA, and more.

Public Art Program

Do you live or work in Dublin or use the Dublin/Pleasanton BART station?

Take a short online community survey about the new public art project associated with the future Dublin Transit Center Parking Garage. Your comments will help influence the artwork!
Responses will be collected through April 30.

Are you interested in being part of the committee that will select the artist? Fill out an interest form. Deadline: April 6.

April is Arts, Culture & Creativity Month

Californians for the Arts (CFTA) directs this annual month-long spotlight on the arts to raise visibility and awareness about the value of our sector, to empower arts advocates to take action, and to spur greater investments in our industry and workforce. Be part of a movement and share your support for celebrating and recognizing the value and impact of arts, culture and creativity in your community. Here are ways to get involved:

- Download the ACCM logo and add it to your social media during the month of April.

- March 31: Submit artwork and art project images to the ACCM 2022 | The Arts Work: Showcase. Selected artworks will be featured on the CFTA website during April. Cash prizes available.

- April 1: Attend Weekly Webinars every Friday through April 29th exploring the “The Arts Work” theme with a special focus each week such as social justice, community prosperity, healing, economic recovery and youth empowerment.

- April 5: Sign up to be an Advocacy Week Delegate for your District to meet with state legislators that represent Alameda County. Meetings with state legislators will take place the week of April 25.

2022 East Bay Innovation Awards
